Re: R-SEAL Construction Tape

To Whom It May Concern:

Rmax Operating, LLC has determined that R-SEAL Construction Tape meets the definition of an "article". As such, an SDS is not required for these items:

US Federal OSHA defines an "article" as follows at 29 CFR 1910.1200 (c):

Article means a manufactured item other than a fluid or particle: (i) which is formed to a specific shape or design during manufacture; (ii) which has end use function(s) dependent in whole or in part upon its shape or design during end use; and (iii) which under normal conditions of use does not release more than very small quantities, e.g., minute or trace amounts of a hazardous chemical (as determined under paragraph (d) of this section), and does not pose a physical hazard or health risk to employees.

Please see the OSHA website at <https://www.osha.gov/> for more information on the SDS and the OSHA 1910.1200 Hazard Communication regulation.
